

another wound. Il<* then threw himself into the. Pleisse, which was tin* first river he came to. Aided by his ollieens, he gained tin* opposite bank, leaving his horse, in the river. Though greatly exhausted he mounted another, and gained the Klstt*r, by passing through M. keie,henbaeh\s garden, which was .situated on the nido of that river. In spite of the steepness of the, banks of the Klster at that part, the Priitre plunged with his horse into the river: both man and liurtit* were drowned, and the saint¹, fate was shared by Heventl iitlit'erK who followed !ouiatow«ki\s example. Marshal Ma<ul<»nuM wan, luekily, one of those who escaped. Five <luyH after a fislic'rman drew the body of the Prince out of the water. On the Sjtjth of October it was temporarily interred at Loipsii, with all the honors <lu« to the illustrious deoeased. A nunlest stone marks tins «pot where, the body of the Prince was dragged from the river. The Poles expressed a wisli to eivet a monument to the memory of their countryman in the garden of M, Retehenharh, but that gentleman declared he would do it at his own expense, which, he did. The monument r-otisintH of a Iwuuliful sarcophagus, surrounded by weeping willows. Tin* body of UK* Prince, after being embalmed, was neni in the following year to Warsaw, and in 18.10 it was deposited in the euthedntl, among the remains of the Kings and gmtt men of Poland. The celebrated Thorwaldsen was rout missioned to c>,tecmta a monument for bin tomb. Primus Poniatowski left no issue but a natural son, born in 1790. Tli - royal nuw therefore, existed only in a collateral branch of King HtaniftloH, namt>ly, Prince Stanislas, born in 1754.¹

nf war, wnl Ctiwmlff Tjanrhittn and ftoynlor were taken with thorn. rrlw*n Jrwiffi I'«»tilitt4»w*kl, r«H*i«»tly tnadA Miirahal of Fnwino, had juBt at tili ti«itii4*ni K*in«Ht tli« bdiiknof th« Kl«t*ir. Though wonndad, consulting •itily tl« cmiftipt. lio l>|«t>I«I. <wi horIM himk into th« rivor, wh«ro ho ttnfor-fiiiiitt-l, f in riili:!. It wa* iinptHiHWi*. In tws more bravo than wan this Prince; imfwtm*, iiii«iii«iti«>nii» i%tnl always iiniantis |w wm as much wtcmwtul by lli«« ii«iift«t wliiiti lsti «*wj>iifi«l iw rutfrotud by ths ti«rtv whom ho wirvod.

Tiis titritiliatott flit* fntil «lay of T^nimlo : thw result of whioh to Kranort wti* ilit* iif » fitiP and iutti«r«>ti8 an«y und all hor AlUm (Memoir of the /lwrilr fotriitti, friitti* vl |», I7l»*). * Prlttr* fnw|»h INmlatowiikl had only b«en miwlt Marshal by Napoleon.

mi thft l>ili Ort«>IH*r. !H!». thnw days before h« was dntwnod. Ho was tho nf ilii* Pofilatowski who followod (ftarlAft XTI. Into Turkey,

Mii ll» «M«|»hnw «if II. of Poland, the taut King of Poland,